In his speech returning thanks for the honor he alluded to the result of the Geneva Arbitration and expressed the opinion that the Americans had come out of the struggle very much irritated, but England's object was not to gain a legal triumph, and acted not therefore as a litigant but as a friend. The money due should be paid without murmur or delay.

EASTERN STATES.

Pennsylvania Democrats.

Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad.

ATLANTA, Sept. 27.—Thirty-five miles of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad were sunk yesterday by order of Governor Smith. The telegraph wire was cut along the road. The seizure is to secure bonds. Receivers have possession of the road and are operating it under a decree of the United States Supreme Court.

A Railroad War.

READING, Pa., Sept. 27.—There is great excitement here over the warfare between the Philadelphia and Reading and Wilmington and Reading Railroads. The inhabitants are in great alarm at symptoms of impending riot and a special detail of one thousand policemen has been ordered out. The Philadelphia and Reading road sought to obstruct the line of the Wilmington and Reading Railroad, which was recently constructed as an opposition line, and the matter is already in the courts. Last night a gang of Philadelphia and Reading employees severely beat five of the other company, and several minor disturbances have taken place. The alarm still continues.

The Compromise.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—A Paris correspondent, who interviewed Gambetta, reports him as saying that the National Assembly has been so beaten and bullied by Thiers that it has become simply a register of the President's will. Thiers, he says, does not represent either the country or Assembly. Consequently, between them, the country is not represented at all. He predicts that on the reassemblage of the Assembly it will dissolve itself out of sheer despair. In any contingency, a Republican is now the only possible Government for France. Thiers, he thinks, upholds the Republican policy, and will, accordingly, receive the support of the Republicans of the country. While he thinks France meditates no future war with Germany, she will by her Republican greatness, become so influential as to sweep the rotten German Empire from the face of the earth by peaceful means.

WASHINGTON CITY.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Frederick Sway, a lad of 17, working in Faulkner's type foundry, was caught in the machinery this afternoon, and so badly injured that his life is despaired of.

Arizona rubies exposed in the window of a competent judge, are by the latter declared to be simple and humble garnets.

Judge Quint has commenced his closing speech for the defence in the Fair case.

Regular transactions in stocks were dull, but after adjournment of the Board the brokers assembled in Joe Harris' saloon on Leidesdorff street, and transacted heavy outside business.

The San Francisco Stock Board have had a good run of business during the past week, not withstanding the tightness of the money market. Sales for the week exceed $2,000,000.

In ten years the San Francisco Stock Board has transacted business to the amount of over $ 00,000,000.

It is now asserted that the Olympia is not to be run as an opposition steamer to Portland, but that she went yesterday on a special charter for the Sorrens troupe. The real truth cannot be ascertained.

William Briggs, who used to swell the city treasury by the payment of fines for running for a saloon, has turned his bread back upon the gambling profession and is now fencing in land at the mission.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

A call has been issued to organize a Grant and Wilson club here next Monday evening.

PETALUMA, Sept. 27.—One of the largest Republican meetings ever held in this city is now in progress at the new theatre building, which is crowded to its utmost capacity. The galleries are thronged with ladies. Amermann the first speaker is followed by Hon. John I. Felton and L. M. Love. The greatest enthusiasm is manifested and the Republicans are jubilant.

H. B. No. [illegible] to amend an act establishing and regulating [illegible] road, was read second time and referred to Committee on Judiciary.

H. B. No. [illegible] to incorporate the town of Forest Grove, read second time and referred to the Senator from Washington county (Mr. Cornelius).

H. B. No. 29 to incorporate the city of Roseburg, read third time and passed.

Mr. Cornelius moved a call of the House.

The roll being called, three members were absent.

The Sergeant-at-Arms was ordered to bring in the absent members.

Mr. Fay having vacated the Chair in favor of Mr. Moores. The Senators appeared, and a further call was dispensed with.

Mr. Fay moved to indefinitely postpone the amendment offered by the Senator from Multnomah. He said the opponents of this resolution go on the theory that the charges made in the preamble were calculated to prejudice the case of parties mentioned in the preamble. The State Printer himself virtually sustains these charges of implications made in the preamble, by the language in a circular issued a few days ago and circulated freely in this body. [Here he read the State Printer's Circular.] It appeared to him as though the State Printer in the issuance of the Circular regarding the 22 Senators, as consummate fools. He alleged in the Circular that in performing the printing, he was only obeying the laws. Mr. Fay said that was all right. It was his duty to obey the law; but to attempting to obey the State in performing work and making what printers call "fat," the State Printer attempts to shield himself behind the Secretary of State. That office is only complied with the law in the appointment of an expert, and if that expert connived at frauds the blame cannot attach to the Secretary of State. It is charged that the expert connived at the fraud. This is an allegation which admits of a question of proof. The expert might be guilty or not guilty. He did not assert whether he was or not. It seems from that Senators had been defending the State Printer against his own wishes for the Courts to investigate in his circular.

Here Mr. Baldwin asked the Senator from Jackson if the resolution provided for an investigation.

Mr. Fay said that he understood that it provides for an investigation of this whole matter, and, of course, the Government Printing Committee will have full authority to act in the matter. He said the assertion of the State Printer in his circular that Mr. Patterson is an honorable man, had but little weight with him. If the two were associated together for the purpose of defrauding the State the assertion of one, that of the other was an honorable man could certainly have but little weight with a sensible man. Here Mr. Fay read an editorial article from the East Portland Era relative to the matter of the State Printing. He then added that this article was written by a practical printer, wherein Mr. Semple was not a practical printer, and was not expected to know what constituted fair work. He was certain that there was sufficient truth in the charges of fraud to demand an investigation, and he, as a Senator of Oregon, upon this floor asked one in behalf of the people.

Mr. Baldwin said the Senator from Jackson had built up a man of straw here, and fought

SATURDAY MORNING SEPT 28 1872

Charles O Conor

This gentleman in reply to the committee of Democrats from Louisville appointed to wait on and urge his acceptance of the nomination also has a letter among other things that

The folly of Greeley's nomination at Baltimore is manifest and its failure now also A public coalition through which the aberrant parties of conspiracy has not the same chance of success The people may be sacrificed by secret betrayals They never consent to open sale Ever since the snap judgment against popular sentiment obtained by the deed of Baltimore arguments very applicable or very unsound have been used to prevent resistance There is said to be no fit choice presented and but of two admitted evils it is wisdom to choose the least

Although in the letter referred to he positively declines the candidacy tendered him he abates not one jot of his contempt and indignation at the action of the Democracy at Baltimore and leaves no room to doubt as to what his idea of the duty of Democrats is under the circumstances His declination is meant as a protest against the convention system of nominations and its preliminary intrigues of the evils of which Mr Greeley's candidacy is the most flagrant illustration the American people ever were asked to contemplate It has been well said by a leading journalist in writing upon Mr O Conor's letter He does not intend to demean his own moral and intellectual integrity by pretending that he thinks Mr Greeley a fit man for the Chief Magistracy of the Republic under any circumstances, least of all as the leader of a mob of unorganized and disorganizing elements professing principles they at heart despise, and having no motive of union but the hunger for place and plunder As a patriot he purges himself of complicity with the leaders of his party, and refuses to stultify himself by following them to the support of a man who whether a faithful member of the Republican party or a new recruit to the Democracy is by nature incompetent to fill with credit the office he seeks and who, if he were the most capable man in the country in other respects, has forfeited the respect and confidence of his fellow-citizens by an intrigue of double dealing as scandalous in character as it is weak in its pretext

Notwithstanding the expressed determination of some of the gentlemen who, at Louisville, nominated Mr O'Conor, to vote for him in November as the representative of Democratic principles, preferring rather to vindicate their political faith by an act which at most can only amount to a protest than to consent to the surrender of it it would be unreasonable to expect that in such a contest as that to which the country is now committed a course so fruitless, however chivalrous, will commend itself to many There are but two candidates in the field who have any chance of success Either General Grant or Horace Greeley will be President for the next four years As between these two Mr O Conor has unmistakably indicated the choice which patriotic Democrats should make If the candidates were equal in moral worth and special qualifications it would nevertheless be the duty of honest men everywhere to condemn by their ballots the base trifling with principle, the subjection of worthy motives to unworthy ambition, and the triumph of sheer trickery which so conspicuously characterized the proceedings of both the Cincinnati and Baltimore Conventions Every utterance of Mr O Conor touching the Louisville movement has rung with indignant protest against the dishonest politics culminating in the nominations of these two conventions Plainly in his belief no duty is more imperative in its behest to every citizen than the duty of saving the nation from suspicion of being controlled by such unprincipled combinations of selfish interests The success of the alliance of its representatives were less objectionable than they are would be full of danger

Detestable

In a somewhat lengthy review of the attempt of certain Greeley journals to tarnish the characters of leading Republicans in and out of Congress in connection with the legislation for the benefit of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, the Chicago Tomes (Democratic) thus bears testimony to the flimsy character of the woof and warp of the whole fabrication

'They also cast some suspicion upon certain Congressmen, but they do not furnish even so much as a handkerchief in the way of proof against them, and an attempt to besmirch the characters of men upon mere suspicion for political purposes is nothing short of detestable

It would be well for some of our Oregon journals to take the hint given by their contemporary as above quoted and cease their unfounded and unproven slanders lest they come to be of ed by their own party at large as 'detestable The extent to which party malice may go is well illustrated by the preposterousness of this story We believe it was first brought out by the New York Sun the arch defamer of the United States and was taken up by the New York and Chicago Tribunes and adopted by their satellites in different parts of the country The arch falsifier the N Y Tribune places the amount of the alleged bribes extravagantly high To Mr Boutwell it assigns 2000 shares in the Credit Mobilier to Mr Colfax 2000 shares to the late Thomas D Eliot a pure minded and incorruptible man, 3000 to Senator Patterson of New Hampshire 3000 to Senator Wilson, 2000 and so on to the number of 20000 in all The stock at that time January 1868 par value, $100 was worth $260 so that the value of the bribe to the 3000 shareholders would be $780 000 each and those who received 2000 shares $520 000 each

The absurdity of the story makes no impression on the journalists who keep it going Our neighbor of the Herald should examine these stories trumped for campaign purposes and see that they at least have some foundation or some show of consistency It is well known that some of the persons charged in the Sun's article have voted in many cases against the measures in which the Union Pacific had the greatest interest Mr Boutwell has steadily voted against the land grants to that Company and his strenuous efforts to make all the Pacific Railroad Companies pay interest on their bonds guaranteed by the government has brought on his head the assaults of some of the journals that now accuse him of taking a bribe to favor every measure they desired No wonder that respectable journals of all parties should denounce such attempts to blacken the character of some of the most honorable men in the nation as detestable

Abram Patterson an old citizen of Douglas county, died at his residence in Ten Mile last Monday He retired to bed after a hearty supper apparently in excellent health and was found dead next morning From an autopsy by Doctors Palmer and Hamilton of this place it was ascertained that death was occasioned by disease of the heart

Washington Territory Politics

Not wishing to intermeddle in the political affairs of our neighbors in Washington Territory and the fact that the Senatorial contest in our own State has occupied to a great extent the attention of ourselves as sufficient reasons for not saying much in regard to the political prospect in our sister Territory across the Columbia Mr Garfield who has hitherto faithfully served that Territory as delegate in Congress is in the field as a candidate already on the stump in the eastern part of the Territory and is making it exceedingly warm for the Greeley-Bush Democracy We are informed by one who heard him in Walla Walla that his speech there was a masterly vindication of Republican principles and the policy of the administration of Gen Grant Over 600 people were present and everything indicated a decided feeling in the audience that his speech was making an impression that will be very perceptible in the greatly reduced if not entirely overcome Democratic majority which will be returned from that hitherto stronghold of the party in that section Mr Garfield's course as a Republican and his ability commended him to the men of that party in his Territory especially while his services as Delegate and his attention to the interests of his constituency commend him to the support of the citizens generally and from the information we have in regard to the matter he will doubtless run far ahead of his competitor Judge McFadden in the present contest for the delegateship We trust our Republican brethren across the Columbia will stand by their candidate and triumphantly elect him to Congress

THE CLACKAMAS CONTEST —The pending contest for the seats of the representatives from Clackamas county is attracting considerable attention at the Capitol Our regular correspondent having expressed an opinion adverse to the sitting members we deem it proper to say that whatever may be the individual opinion of our correspondent it is no our intention or wish to have the ORGONIAN understood as taking ground for one side or the other in a contest which the House has to decide for itself, and which ought not to be prejudiced by ex parte statements

WASHINGTON COUNTY LETTER

HILLSBORO Sept 26, 1872

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Everybody in Washington county seems to be busy Farmers are rushing in their fall low, teamsters are hauling off their grain, and the towns people are getting in their winter supply of wood and vegetables

It is reported in Hillsboro to day that arrangements will be made with the Oregon Central Railroad to transmit articles for the Washington County Fair from Portland to the Fair grounds at Hillsboro and also from Yamhill county which certainly will be a very sensible arrangement as both parties can make money by so doing and a great many would be accommodated who would be glad to leave their teams at home Parties down from Yamhill county say they would like it if a train would run as far beyond Gaston as the track is laid, so they could have a chance of visiting the Fair without having the trouble and expense of a team on their hands when they arrived If the Society has not already done so, it will be well for them to move in this matter at once The accommodations of the hotels in Hillsboro, together with the large hotel at Cornelius will if properly managed give greater satisfaction than any previous year

SATURDAY MORNING SEPT 28 187...

THE GENTLE HOODLUM —The rapidity with which Portland is developing the genus in the way of bad boys is becoming a matter of serious concern to society The press of the city have commented frequently adverted to the subject but as yet no steps have been taken towards the stamping out of these pests A writer to one of the interior papers of California speaks as follows in regard to this interesting class young ruffians with which San Francisco is becoming overrun We have without exception the meanest smallest fastest and most dishonest set of youngsters in the civilized world and as the preaching and all the Industrial schools will not mitigate the evil unless parents commence to reform their ways by bringing home and exercise a healthy home influence which is paramount to gospel gossip and legal restraints Scarce a day passes but what some dozen or so of these specimen bring up at the police court for either using obscene language disturbing the peace or committing thefts of which the original Jack Sheppard might well be proud But just as long as parents will send out their boys to bring home fire-wood—no matter where found—and their guns for groceries and vegetables to the stalls and market places to be paid for with cheek just so long will our city be infested with vile vagabonds and thieves who when they reach riper years will thereby take lodgings at the expense of the State, and learn the useful art of making brick It is sad, indeed, when we contemplate the swarms of idle youths who are wandering about on our streets during all the hours of the day and night and who will steal anything from an apple to a cold stove Thoughtless fathers and over indulgent mothers are alone responsible for this state of affairs and it will soon become necessary for us to enlarge our prisons and houses of correction

Parents have much to answer for who send forth such little pests into the community without giving them the least training to contaminate our school's, our streets and our houses as these young rascals make easy conquests of well disposed well brought-up children whom chance throws in their way. But the Hoodlum is not altogether found in the low hovels and on the wharves, he often graduates in the best society, and as his dress [illegible] the little gentleman, his depredations are not so easily traced How much shame and disgrace parents might have saved themselves and their friends if they had given one hours attention each day to their children, instead of letting them have their own way from the moment they commenced to crawl Many a father is brought to an early grave and many a mother hangs her head low when the name of their wayward son is mentioned, and yet the majority of people will not profit by the harrowing pictures which are set before them. Portland is not so old or populous as San Francisco but in proportion to her age and population, she can "stand off" most any city of similar dimensions in the number of her rock throw boys More missionaries wanted.

"RESOURCES OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY" —We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of this book from Messrs Murphy & Harned, the publishers and compilers It is a very neatly printed volume of 200 pages set up in small type and presents a handsome appearance The author Mr John Mortimer Murphy, has written his subjects in a comprehensive, elaborate, and yet condensed manner and has left nothing desirable unsaid The work is devoted to a description of the varied resources of the Territory, comprising a general sketch history, climatology, productions, commerce and manufactures, shipping mineralogy geology forests fisheries animals birds mountains harbors rivers, lakes lands schools, public buildings railroads, and Indians It also contains a borough and complete directory of all of the larger towns and a description of every hamlet in the Territory, and also a descriptive sketch of Victoria and Portland Through out the work bears indications of patient labor and thorough research into the data of the numerous subjects dwelt upon Mr Murphy's descriptive style is very good for a work of that character, being vivid, vigorous and scholarly The work is the best description of Washington Territory we have yet seen and is calculated to greatly benefit that part of the coast It should meet with an extensive circulation abroad

SURVEYING SERVICE —The Army and Navy Journal states that orders have been given to fit out the sloop of war Portsmouth for coast and river surveys in Oregon, Washington Territory and Alaska. This vessel has recently returned from the coast of Brazil, where she had been on the same service, and will leave New York for the North Pacific waters about the 1st of October She is to be commanded by Commander Joseph Sherrett, who has been appointed to conduct the surveys in contemplation, and who is superintending, under the direction of Vice Admiral Rowan, the preparations for this special service. She is to have three steam launches with which to enter rivers and bays, all provided with condensing fresh water apparatus. A large portion of her deck will be converted into a drawing room for making charts She will carry but four guns and be fitted to work with as few men as possible

CHAMPIONS OF THE RED CROSS —The temperance revival Inaugurated by the above order is still progressing in this city and East Portland On last Saturday night Portland Encampment No 7 initiated six persons There were seventy Champions present filling the hall quite full This Encampment expects to build a new hall this winter in South Portland Lurean Encampment No 1 of this city initiated five persons on Tuesday evening, furnishing visiting members and themselves a fine supper On Wednesday evening Excelsior Encampment No 2, of East Portland, initiated five persons They meet in the Odd Fellows' Hall of that city George B Taylor, the Supreme Commander and founder of the order, was present, instructing and encouraging them The members seem delighted with the life assurance sick benefit initiatory services and its moral teaching

BAD CONDITION —That portion of Fourth street which is not planked and ready for travel, is in a terrible condition There has been considerable complaint as to the manner in which this street is being improved Men are strung along the road for nearly a quarter of a mile engaged in raising the track grading for the planks and constructing gutters Material is scattered in promiscuous heaps The inquiry has been frequently made why the raising of the track grading and planking cannot keep pace and the improvement proceed more evenly Cross walks even temporarily laid at the street intersections would be a great public accommodation

BONES DISCOVERED —Mr Thomas Parrott of East Portland while on a visit to Yamhill county this week discovered near the head of Ash Island, in the Willamet river two bones of the extinct mastadon These bones are a portion of the knee cape and a joint of vertebrae They are of immense size and considering the fact that they have and in the earth and water for the last three or six centuries they are in a good state of preservation The offside can be seen at the residence of Mr Parrott in East Portland Some years ago seven ribs of the mastadon were found at the head of the same island

FACE DIE —The present condition of Fourth street, is not very conducive to the general safety of life and limb especially if traversed hastily or in a careless manner these dark moonless nights A lady whose name we are unable to obtain, a few evenings ago while crossing that street stumbled over a pile of lumber and fell headlong into one of the cross surface drains She struck her face against a sharp piece of timber, which inflicted a severe gash

NO ARRESTS —Up to 12 o'clock last night no arrests were made at the Police station The city has been putting on its best behavior for the last week, which may be accounted for on the ground that the Lane County Fair and the Legislature are now both running and of the State Fair in proximity These gatherings offer remunerative fields in which the loose fellows about the city can practice their peculiar avocation

TUGBOATS —On the return of boat's crew she will bring to this port the company of U S troops which have been stationed at San Juan Island for the last ten months and which has recently been relieved by Company H of the 21st Infantry The relieved company will on their arrival here be ordered to some post not designated

ASSAULT AND BATTERY —Nine days was tried yesterday before Justice Lawson on the charge of an assault on another person He was found guilty and fined $5 and costs Another man named Michael, for assaulting a lady was also before the same Court yesterday afternoon and fined $5 and costs

ANOTHER —Cahalin & Co announce fresh additions to their stock of boots and shoes Mr Cahalin is about to go below to buy more

TESTIMONIAL PETITIONS —A note received from J Quinn Thornton desires us to state that all Grood Templar Lodges and others having possession of petitions to the Legislative Assembly praying for material changes in the law for granting licenses for selling in quantities will please to forward them to him at Salem without delay

SEVERE —Three fingers of a sailor on board the bark Nanja were severed yesterday afternoon by an ax in the hands of a comrade He was holding a rope for the other man to cut, when his digits were separated by an awkward stroke Dr Chiselin was called and dressed the limb

CHAINS —Since the lone fir tree which has stood so many years on Fourth street in front of the Skating Rink, has been felled and the trunk and limbs removed a marked change in the general appearance of things is observable to all who may pass in that direction

ADDITIONAL WORKS —The following new books have been added to the Portland Library Scrambles Amongst the Alps in the years 1860 69 by Edward Whymper New York and its Institutions, 1609 1871 by Rev J F Richmond

AT ALBANY —A portion of Wilson & menagerie consisting of birds ... which were brought up on the last steamer are now on exhibition at Albany They will be at the State Fair during its continuance

BURNED —A small house standing on the east side of the river near the residence of James B Stephens, took fire from the woods yesterday and was entirely consumed The building was unoccupied Loss but slight

NEW PAPER —The Champions of the Red Cross will commence the publication of an organ for the order soon in this city, to be called the Independent Champion The new paper will at first be a monthly

A GEM —Demorest's Monthly for October has been laid on our table It is filled with gems of fashion and gems of literature For the ladies it is the magazine par excellence

ARGUMENT —The argument on the motion for a new trial in the case of the United States vs Frank Tompkins et al will be heard to day in the U S District Court

THROWN OUT —A team attached to a wagon, ran off yesterday, up in the vicinity of First and Madison streets The driver was thrown out and his forearm broken

HEATERS —The last steamer brought to this city several large heaters to be used in the public buildings They can be seen at the store of E Milwain

FIRES —Heavy fires were again raging late last night among the timber west of the city We shall hold ourself in readiness to chronicle a fresh destruction of cord wood

COMMENCED —The Assessor has commenced to make out a copy of the assessment roll for 1872 It will be completed about the 1st of next month

LARGE DEER —A fine large deer was brought into the city yesterday weighing 180 pounds The deer was killed out west of the city

ON THE WAY —Both the steamers Oriflamme and Olympus are on the way to this port from San Francisco with freight and passengers,

COURTS —The United States Circuit Court will convene on Monday and the United States District Court on Tuesday next

TWO DRUNKS —Only two cases of drunks were disposed of before Judge Denny yesterday morning

DUE —The steamer Oriflamme will be due at this port on Monday evening

Steamers ... and ... from San Francisco due to morrow

WEEKLY OREGONIAN in wrappers for mailing to Eastern friends now ready

There are four steam boats now lying side by side at the levee a rather unusual circumstance

A large number of carriages could be seen promenading the streets yesterday Horses and mules almost out of use

The room over Mc Grath's store will be occupied as a dancing academy shortly Mr Chas J Grisham will conduct it

A handsome little city is being formed in Holladay's Addition Last Thursday and Friday the steamer presents from this side is very pleasing

A large number of pretty yachts to be seen —could be seen scurrying over the pictures per Wasp not yesterday and thus enhancing the beauty

The insertion into the stomach of the liquid extract of the leading specimen of pomology is what they term side drinking which has now become a fashionable

Some lads were fool hardy enough to go bathing yesterday A little more of that thing and they might never want a wash owing to the dissolving power of lovers

The new market on First street is rapidly approaching completion When finished it will be the handsomest structure of its class on the coast and an architectural ornament to the city

The German internal revenue system will go into effect on 1st October 1st in the largest cities More than likely orders in Germany will be issued from the Portland office during next month

Not a runaway or murder or suicide or even a cat serenade to enliven the wits of the reporters hence the modulate tones with which they write Reporters don't care a fig for a murder or case of suicide

Two nautical Chinamen, while trying to manage a boat last evening managed to tumble themselves into the water As they were only a few yards from Moffett's wharf they crawled ashore, not much the worse for their bath

The State Fair which commences next Monday is the great theme in everybody's mouth at present It promises to be the best exhibition ever held in this State, not only in the display of the best products of the country but also in the number of visitors These displays should be encouraged in every possible way, for they give a wonderfully progressive impetus

AMUSEMENTS

"Humpty Dumpty" was reproduced last night at Oro Fino Theater to a crowded house

CAPTIVE GIRLS RESCUED It is stated in a private letter received from Fort Sill, Indian Territory, by the Clerk of the Board of Indian Commissioners, that the Kiowa chiefs brought into the agency at that point two girls aged respectively seventeen and fourteen years, and transferred them to the United States authorities In this case the Indians appear to have departed from their usual custom of ill treating captives as the girls speak rather favorably of their captors

Charles Sumner has received a tribute which will delight his egotistical heart The Massachusetts Liberal Convention has nominated him for Governor and the Democratic Convention ratified the choice However as Massachusetts gave a Republican majority of 55,100 in 1868 Charles chances seem brilliant

The New York Herald says there is a lamentable want of enthusiasm in the Greeley ranks The Herald says if the Greeleyites don't wake it will be because of an unaccountable apathy in the rank and file of the concern Unaccountable apathy is good Anything else than apathy would be unaccountable under the circumstances

Half Alive

It is not a thing to pass through life only half alive Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain But they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure to the more robust and energetic It flows being in many cases not from the estate of the body and mind but from an impoverished state of the blood which fails to [illegible] every organ and every function of the system with the rich crimson fluid of health Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is unrivalled as a remedy for this condition of the system It acts directly upon the blood and regularly distributes it to the liver kidneys and other organs of the body Digestion and assimilation are promoted the appetite is restored and the whole system invigorated by the use of this fine tonic and alterative Try it and be convinced that it will do all we claim for it

Hanging in Olden Times

A correspondent gives the following incidents

While John Hancock was Governor of the Commonwealth Rachel Whall was hung in Boston for highway robbery Her offense consisted in twitching from the hand of another female a bonnet worth seventy five cents and running off with it The most earnest applications for her pardon were unsuccessful I mention this not to the disparagement of the Governor He doubtless acted upon a sense of duty thinking it best for the community that the laws of the land however frightfully severe while they were laws should be executed A lad 18 years of age was hung in Salem for arson during the administration of Governor Strong similar appeals in his case being considered and overruled Yet the intelligence and the humanity alike of the Executive and of the Council notwithstanding the result arrived at in both these instances were unquestionable

Within the same period a gentleman of this city saw a girl of seventeen years of age hung in London for stealing a silver cream pitcher Edward Vale Brown was hung in Boston for burglary committed in the house of Captain Otis Goodwin in Charter street, and stealing therefrom sundry articles I once owned a set of the Old Bailey Trials (17—1820), embraced in a series of perhaps 18 quarto volumes The earliest of these volumes contain the details of the trial of the unfortunate Dr Dodd, for forgery whose touching appeals for mercy, here recorded were fruitlessly enforced by the splendid eloquence of Johnson. In a later volume long after the commencement of the present century, [illegible] separate capital convictions are recorded at one day's job of a single tribunal, the culprits being all boys and girls between the ages of ten and fifteen and their offenses petty thefts.

"One case I remember of peculiar judicial atrocity. A young girl in her eighteenth year was [illegible] for stealing a roll of ribbon worth three [illegible]. The prosecutor's testimony was to this effect 'The prisoner came into my shop and bought some ribbon I saw her [illegible] this piece also I personally knew her When she left I accompanied her and offered her my arm which she accepted We chatted together As we reached the corner of a street leading to the Bow street office I turned toward it She said she was going in another direction, and bade me good morning I said to her No! you are going with me I saw you steal a piece of ribbon She immediately implored me for God's sake to overlook it and restored to me the article I said to her that I had lost many things in this way and was resolved to make her an example—that I was determined to have her life And he got it I can never forget how my blood boiled as I read the testimony of this cold hearted wretch In view of the judgement of a merciful God far rather it seemed to me, would I have been in the place of that poor frail, erring girl, even on the scaffold, than in the place of her heartless accuser

I rose from the perusal of these volumes horror-struck with the continuous record of inconceivable legal cruelty It appears to me that the seventy thousand hangings in the reign of Henry VIII were matched by an equally long list of persons condemned to be hung in the reign of George III Since that time much has been done in England by Romilly, Brougham McIntosh and Sydney Smith and as much, perhaps more by kindred philanthropists on this side of the Atlantic"

A Woman's Council to Women

"Shirley Dare" gives some useful hints to women in these paragraphs

Does a woman deserve respect who calls the work of her sex drudgery? There are women who always speak of it by that name but they are usually inferior and under bred women who write about "musses and "messes" for print, pugs or guys of the feminine gender, tiresome in Society, egotists at home These are the class who complain of cramped facilities and heavy burdens, whose time and ability are too precious to waste in seeing that the soup is piquant, or the shirts well aired They bring out "last articles" in manuscript to entuse particular friends and converse in a logical way, unconscious what a [illegible] by [illegible] wades their rooms, or how shockingly mottled all the colors of their furniture may be

I do not speak of the women who neglect their [illegible] either for study or society but of that half [illegible] a woman who performs common duties in a grudging, disdainful way, all the time feeling that they waste to use [illegible] formula, "abilities which might be so much better employed They dust rooms and mend clothes, and bake cake, and call this [illegible] very, and say the noblest calling of women means no such frivolous pretense, but work [illegible] wise and comprehending, washing of [illegible] and kettles, scouring of unware and [illegible] ing stoves, paring of potatoes and putting on of coal, in short, the whole horrid round of indispensable to bright houses and good fare Many women may not be called on to do these things, but every woman princess or peasant, ought to know how they should be done, and have dexterity and practice enough to do them This is woman's province, which all gentlewomen should learn just as men of rank learn the science of war, till they know how much sand goes to a charge of gunpowder, and how much labor goes to squaring earthworks Many people are saying this over in different ways—George Eliot and George Sand indirectly in their heroes and heroines who are never by any possibility, afraid of the meanest labor Mrs. Craik, Frederica Bremer, and Mrs Stowe more explicitly

SOUTHERN COMPLIMENTS TO NEW ENGLAND —The Richmond Inquirer is disappointed at the news from Vermont and Maine, but says

"Upon the whole, it is, perhaps as well it has happened so We expected no effective aid from that quarter, and the very fact that they are combined against us will unite the Middle and Southern States Nay, it will do more than this It will teach us that the fires of hate still burn as fiercely in the breasts of the descendants of Puritans as of yore, and taught by those we will learn that the only road to peace is through victory We must gain political power through the peaceful means of the ballot before we can bring these haughty saints to terms, and to do this we must work" Still more bitterly the Columbia (South Carolina) Phoenix says Vermont is the most sectional, Southern hating, Radical State of Radical-ridden England In its scraggy mountains are the vanity dens and holes of Radicalism The spirit of reconciliation, reunion friendship, which pervades the movement that Greeley leads and adorns can find no resting-place in the bosoms of these icy hearted Puritans who comprise the ruling elements of Vermont They are so imbued with a sense of their self righteousness that they can never see their own errors or have aught but condemnation for those who differ from them

ELECTRICAL WONDERS —By the mirror galvanometer of Sir William Thompson which was of the utmost importance in securing the success of the Atlantic cable, a ray of light is attached to a magnetic needle When the electric current passes the magnet is deflected and the movement of the reflected spot of light over a scale indicates the resistance to the passage of the current The united weight of mirror and magnet is three quarters of a grain During the experiments with the Atlantic telegraph, both cables were connected at the American end giving a circuit of more than four thousand miles yet a current passed through the whole distance in less time than a person could pass across the small room in which the experiment was made and most wonderful of all the battery that accomplished this result was contained in a lady's silver thimble —Scribner's

San Francisco jewelers must be the most unconscionable rogues in the world The highest bid they could be induced to make for a diamond as big as a good-sized piece of chalk, found by a small boy in Santa Cruz county was $10 000 and this bid seems to be regarded by two-thirds of the American press as incontrovertible proof that the sand diamond is worth at least $3 000 000

A call has been issued for a National Convention of firemen to be held in New York this fall It is proposed to send one delegate from every fire company in the United States to this convention The object of the association if organized, will be of a mutual benefit and co-operative character

SLEPT ON YOUR CARES —Men of business believe me there is now and then a profitable venture in doing nothing at all In the power to put business aside and abiding now and then in a perfect quiet things sometimes solve themselves when we give them that advantage which refuse to come clear for all our trying We all know how simply by taking some perplexity into the deepest silence this side death—a good night's sleep—we can do better sometimes than if we sat up and wrought at a desk all night When Matthew Murray of Leeds wanted to see his way through some more perplexity in his inventions and all other efforts was of no use he rested lay and night from all noise and all effort except the effort an active man has to keep himself quiet and then the thing he wanted would steal in and look at him and light on him and stay as birds used to light on the old hermits no more afraid of them than of the trees under which they sat And mothers you may care and toil incessantly for your little ones never resting a moment in your devotion and then because you never do be quiet but enter into your very closet with a little frock to mend you shall never be quite able to take the whole sunlight and sum of your motherhood into your heart You will be so full of care about the bread that perishes as to miss the bread that cometh down from heaven No person in the world needs so much now and then to be still and open her soul only to the silence as an earnest energetic whole hearted man or other This eternal activity is almost sure to run at last into shallows —Robert Collyer in Independent

HIS LAST VISIT —Some years ago there lived a gentleman, of indolent habits in Sussex who made a business in the winter season of visiting friends extensively After wearing out his welcome in his own immediate vicinity he thought he would visit an old Quaker friend some twenty miles distant who had been a schoolfellow of his On his arrival he was cordially received by the Quaker thinking his visitor had taken much pains to come so far to see him He treated his friend with great attention and politeness for several days and as he did not see any sign of his leaving he became uneasy but he bore it with patience till the morning of the eighth day when he said to him

"My friend, I am afraid thee will never visit me again

Oh yes I shall said the visitor I have enjoyed my visit very much I shall certainly come again

Nay said the Quaker I think thee will not visit me again

What makes you think I shall not come again? asked the visitor

If thee dost never leave I said the Quaker how canst thee come again?

There is something more than a daily ferry now between Europe and America. In fact the rate is something like a steamer every twelve hours from the port of Liverpool alone When to these are added the ships of the French and German lines we get some idea of the prodigious increase of late in steam communication between the two continents

Edith O Gorman the Escaped Nun stated in a lecture a few nights since that the whole time she was in a convent she never beheld her face—that there were no looking glasses in convents Edith is a woman—there were no looking glasses so Edith ran away Natural

George— There Aunt Mary What do you think of that? I drew the horse and Ethel drew the jockey Aunt Mary— Hm but what would mamma say to drawing on Sunday? George— Ah! but look here we've drawn him riding to church you know! —Punch

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION AT BALTIMORE MAY 1872

The Republican Party of the United States in National Convention assembled in the city of Baltimore, finds it fitting at the close of the first century of the existence of the nation to review briefly the principles which have guided it in the past and the progress which they have secured for the people

During the thirty years which have elapsed since its organization it has accepted with alacrity the issues presented by the progress of the times and has never failed to meet them with a firm and patriotic front and to settle them permanently by the adoption of such measures as were demanded by the exigencies of the occasion

Resolved That the Republican Party has passed through the fiery ordeal of civil war and has emerged from it purified and strengthened by the baptism of blood and fire which it has called upon the nation to endure

Resolved That the Republican Party has accepted with frankness and has fulfilled with fidelity the duty imposed upon it by the results of the civil war and has never faltered in its purpose to secure to all the people of the United States the full benefit of the principles established by the war

Resolved That the Republican Party has never had any sympathy with the enemies of the Union and has always held that the war power was given to the government for the preservation of the Union and for the full protection and equal enjoyment of all rights of citizenship under the Constitution and that the power to deal with the conquered territory is only limited by the obligation to secure to the inhabitants self government as soon as they are capable of exercising it

Resolved That the guarantees of equal rights and privileges to all citizens in the exercise of their political functions and the enforcement of those guarantees by such legislation as is necessary and proper are the duty of the government of the United States in every case where they are denied or violated by any state

Resolved That the Republican Party is the only party that can be permanently trusted with state sovereignty and that it is the only party capable of conducting the government through the present perils

Resolved That the Republican Party has been and is the party of progress and reform as shown by its management of the finances by its honest payment of the public debt by its reduction of the burden of taxation by its economical administration of the government by its encouragement of the development of the agricultural mineral and commercial interests of the country by its establishment of the policy of free homes for the people by its improvement of the great highways of the nation by its encouragement of the construction of the Pacific railroads by its exploration of the public lands by its restoration of the currency to a sound basis by its reform of the system of taxation by its revision of the tariff by its modification of the onerous internal taxes by its repeal of the most burdensome by its removal of the restrictions that hindered the people from the full enjoyment of the fruits of their labor by its reduction of the rate of interest by its resumption of specie payments by its unparalleled progress in the development of the resources of the country and by its brilliant success in every financial crisis

Resolved That the Republican Party proposes to maintain the credit of the nation by the payment of the public debt as rapidly as the good faith of the nation and the welfare of the people will permit but it is the duty of the government to remember that the widows and orphans of the men who died to preserve the country have claims upon the nation for generous care which cannot be forgotten or neglected and that the sick and wounded soldiers who shed their blood in defense of the life of the nation have a right to the faithful watchfulness of a grateful people

Resolved That the Republican Party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to the states as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments It disapproves of assailing constitutional laws for the purpose of overthrowing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Governments

Resolved That it is the duty of the General Government to foster such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship building

Resolved That we hail with the modest patriotism became our purpose, so our judgment practice wisdom love of republican integrity and illustrious services of U S Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory
